Angullong awarded dual trophies at the Sydney Royal Wine Show

The Angullong 'A' Range Orange Region Sauvignon Blanc 2008 was last night (12/02/09) awarded the prestigious Bert Bear Memorial Perpetual Trophy for the Best Young White Wine as well as The First Estate Wine Merchants Perennial Trophy for the Best White Wine of the Show, not exceeding $15 per bottle, at the 2009 Macquarie Bank Sydney Royal Wine Show

"To say that we're happy with this result is certainly an understatement," commented Ben Crossing, owner of Angullong Wines. "The quality of fruit grown in the Orange region is steadily increasing as the vineyards mature. The altitude and cool climate help us to consistently grow some of the best Sauvignon Blanc and aromatic whites. It's fantastic to gain this sort of recognition, especially when you consider the calibre of the competition and the experience of the Judges."

The 2009 Sydney Royal Wine Show attracted more than 2300 wines, representing nearly every wine region in Australia. "Being the final wine show of the year the Sydney Royal Wine Show benchmarks the previous vintage whites and two year old reds," explained newly appointed Chairman of Judges, Mr Iain Riggs in a media release during the lead up to the judging.

The Angullong Sauvignon Blanc 2008 sits within the Angullong 'A' Range which also includes Orange Region Verdelho, Shiraz and Cabernet Merlot.

Angullong 'A' Range Orange Region Sauvignon Blanc 2008 Awards:

- TROPHY - Bert Bear Memorial Trophy for the Best Young White Wine, classes 35, 40 to 43 Sydney Royal Wine Show 2009.
- TROPHY - The First Estate Wine Merchants Perennial Trophy for the Best White Wine of the Show, not exceeding $15 retail per bottle, Sydney Royal Wine Show 2009.

Angullong Wines (pronounced 'An-ga-long') is located in the picturesque foothills of Orange's Mount Canobolas in NSW. The property has been in the Crossing family since 1950 and was run as a successful sheep and cattle station prior to diversifying into grape growing and winemaking in 1998. Today, Angullong is home to 550 acres of vineyard as well as the Crossing's Angus cattle herd, Boer goat and cropping enterprises.
